

Dear HR Pre-professional,

Your university training in Human Resources is vital to your career – but so is experience and connections that can't be found in a college classroom. Join more than 500 working professionals at the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM) Colorado's conference this fall in Keystone, Colorado.

Registration is now open for "Revolutionary HR: Human Capital in the New Economy." For truly cutting-edge training in Human Resource management and tools, you can't afford to miss this conference. The profession of Human Resource management is changing to meet the challenges of the 21st century. Your education should include an understanding of how it is altering from transactional to transformational.

Students are encouraged to attend both for the professional training and the networking possibilities.

SHRM Colorado is offering student rates, and one free registration will be given to a student who is registered by June 30.

This year's conference features Ram Charan, an internationally sought after business author and consultant who has coached business leaders at companies as diverse as GE, Verizon, Novartis, Dupont, Thomson Corp., Honeywell and KLM. He is the author of 17 books, including "The Talent Masters" and "The Leadership Pipeline."

Check back on COSHRM.org regularly for new updates, resources and information. Reach us at conferenceprogram@coshrm.org

In order to be eligible to win the free student registration and to ensure you can attend the specific sessions you are interested in, go to COSHRM.org and get started!

Thank you,

Your 2011 Conference Committee
